Major Anomalies

GLD — Gold ETF `-4.15%`

Cause: Gold plunged as Trump's comments on a potential Iran deal and cancellation of strikes reduced safe-haven demand.

Forward Impact: Further downside possible if geopolitical tensions ease, but any escalation could reverse losses.

XLK — Technology ETF `-2.29%`

Cause: Technology stocks fell amid profit-taking and rotation out of growth sectors, despite positive AI-related news from Eaton.

Forward Impact: Sector may remain volatile as investors weigh AI optimism against valuation concerns and geopolitical risks.

SLV — Silver ETF `-2.29%`

Cause: Silver fell in sympathy with gold, as reduced geopolitical risk and a stronger dollar weighed on precious metals.

Forward Impact: Silver may underperform gold due to industrial demand concerns, but could rebound if risk appetite shifts.

USO — Oil ETF `+2.28%`

Cause: Oil rose on expectations that a US-Iran deal could open the Strait of Hormuz, easing supply disruption fears.

Forward Impact: Prices may stabilize if deal progresses, but uncertainty over implementation and demand outlook persists.

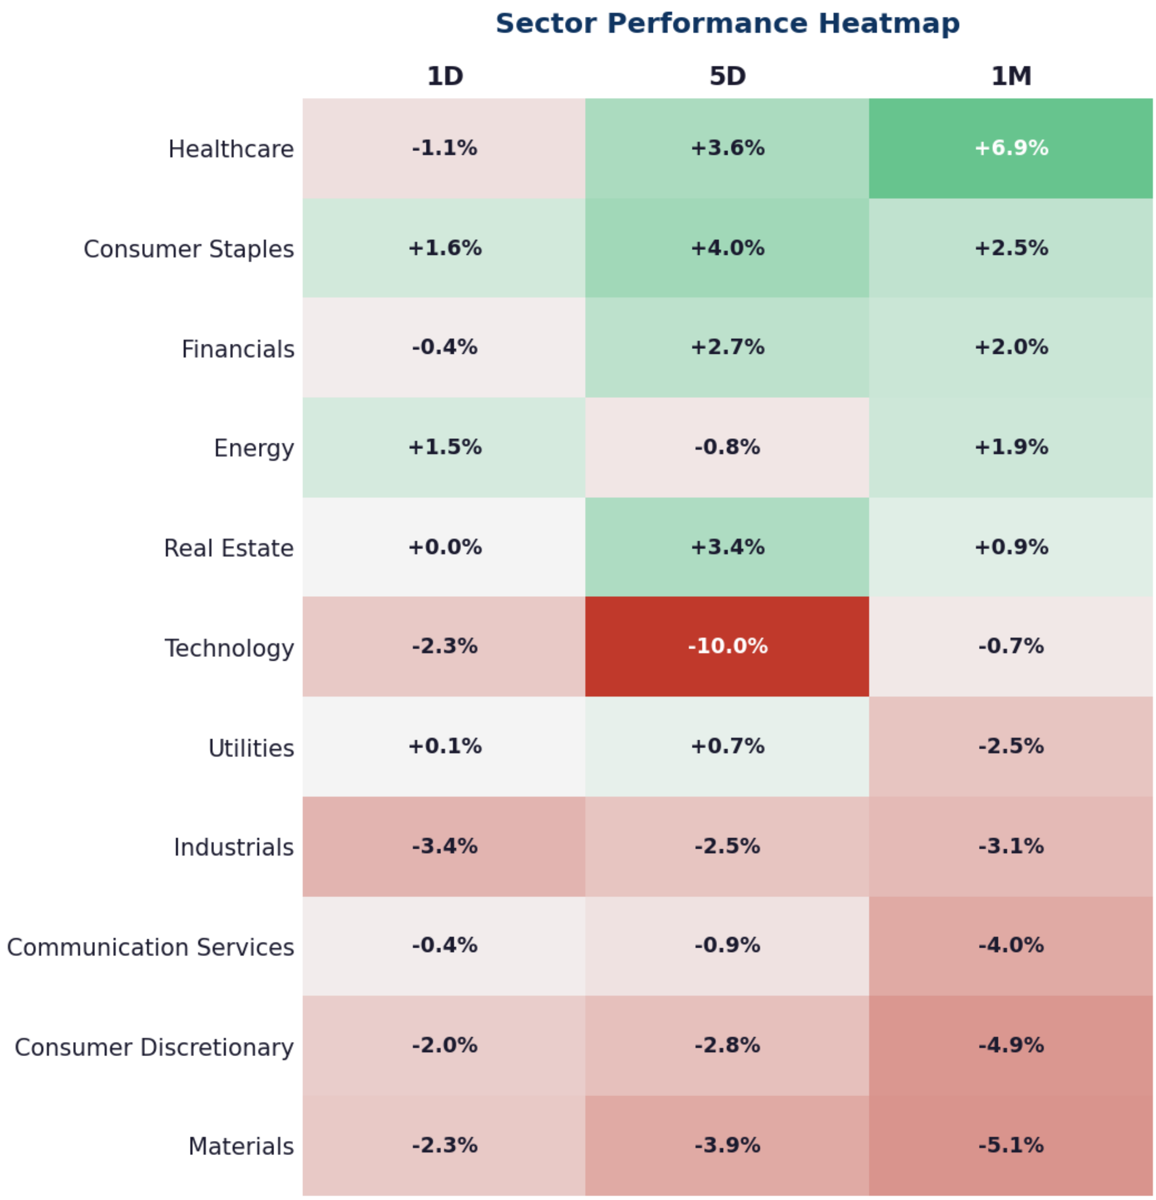
Economic Calendar — Next 7 Days

No upcoming macro events in the next 7 days.

Sector Heat Map



Hot Now

- XLV — Healthcare shows strong momentum across 1d, 5d, and 1m, with positive returns in all periods.
- XLP — Consumer Staples has positive returns across all timeframes, indicating defensive strength.
- XLF — Financials have positive 5d and 1m returns, with only a slight 1d dip, showing resilience.

Cold but Worth Watching

- XLK — Technology has suffered a sharp 5d decline of -10%, but long-term growth potential may lead to mean reversion.

- XLY — Consumer Discretionary has negative returns across all timeframes, but consumer spending could rebound.
- XLB — Materials have the worst 1m performance at -5.1%, but may benefit from economic recovery.

> Defensive sectors like Healthcare and Consumer Staples are leading, while Technology and other cyclical sectors are under pressure, suggesting a risk-off sentiment with potential for mean reversion in beaten-down areas.

Daily Conclusion

> Risk-off rotation into defensive sectors (XLV, XLP) and precious metals (GLD, SLV) dominates, as geopolitical headlines overshadow tech weakness (XLK) and cyclical laggards (XLY, XLB).
