🔥 Sector Heat Map

Hot Now

- Healthcare (XLV) — Strongest 1-month gain (+9.9%) with solid 5-day momentum (+2.7%), showing defensive leadership
- Consumer Staples (XLP) — Near-top 1-month return (+9.8%) and positive 5-day (+2.1%) despite a one-day pullback, classic risk-off bid

- Utilities (XLU) — Consistent gains across 5-day (+1.3%) and 1-month (+8.6%), benefiting from defensive rotation
- Real Estate (XLRE) — Best 5-day momentum (+2.9%) and positive 1-day (+0.1%), rate-sensitive rebound with steady 1-month strength

Cold but Worth Watching

- Technology (XLK) — Worst 1-month (-12.2%) and 5-day (-6.8%) but positive 1-day (+1.3%), oversold bounce candidate if rotation reverses
- Communication Services (XLC) — Deep 1-month underperformance (-9.1%) yet strongest 1-day (+1.2%), early stabilization signal worth monitoring
- Energy (XLE) — Only sector with negative 5-day (-2.2%) and lagging 1-month (+5.1%), potential mean-reversion if commodity/energy sentiment turns

> Defensive rotation dominates as healthcare, staples, utilities, and real estate lead while high-beta tech and communication services sell off, signaling a risk-off, late-cycle posture.

💡 Daily Conclusion

> Defensive sector leadership alongside a market rally on a divided-government outcome points to a dominant theme of reduced policy uncertainty favoring stability over growth exposure.
