1. Surge in 'risk-free' treasury yields sends bond investors in search of better opportunities

CNBC — 2026-05-22 15:10

The 10-year U.S. Treasury yield surged to 4.57% and the 30-year yield hit 5.08%, its highest since 2007, driven by geopolitical conflict and an oil price shock. Traders now expect no Fed rate cut for the rest of 2026 and see a rate hike as increasingly likely. HSBC warned U.S. Treasuries are in a 'danger zone,' and strategists recommend focusing on the 5-to-7-year part of the curve to avoid long-dated volatility.

2. Stocks continue surging to record highs. Here's how to hedge

The S&P 500 has rallied 17% off its March lows, driven by tariff optimism, resilient earnings, and a semiconductor rebound. The VIX has fallen to the high teens, making put options cheaper; a one-month 30-delta put costs about 1% of SPY's current level. Analysts recommend hedging now due to elevated Treasury yields, persistent gold demand, and narrowing market breadth, as the equal-weighted index stalls near prior highs.

3. Mega-IPOs could signal market top, say analysts as SpaceX and OpenAI prep record floats

CNBC — 2026-05-22 10:20

SpaceX confirmed a June 12 IPO targeting a $1.75 trillion valuation, alongside planned floats from OpenAI and Anthropic. Analysts warn this flurry of mega-IPOs from unprofitable companies with opaque business models could signal a market top, drawing parallels to the late-1990s dot-com bubble. SpaceX reported a net loss of $4.28 billion in the latest quarter and warned it may never achieve profitability.

4. Egg prices are plunging due to oversupply — and producers say margins are taking a hit as costs rise

Egg prices fell 44.7% year-over-year in March 2026 as oversupply follows last year's bird flu-driven shortage. Producers face margin pressure from rising costs for feed, fuel, and labor, with diesel costs spiking due to the war in Iran. Despite strong consumer demand for protein, the oversupply has pushed some dozen-egg prices below $1, squeezing producer profitability.

5. Arm shares extend weekly rally to almost 50%, and Starbucks pulls the plug on an AI project

CNBC — 2026-05-22 17:32

Arm shares extended their weekly rally to nearly 50%, while Starbucks pulled the plug on an AI project.

6. Disney's 'Star Wars: The Mandalorian and Grogu' tallies lowest Thursday preview sales in franchise history

CNBC — 2026-05-22 18:48

Disney's 'Star Wars: The Mandalorian and Grogu' earned $12 million in Thursday previews, the lowest in franchise history, below 'Solo's' $14.1 million. The film is expected to open with $80–$95 million over the three-day weekend, one of the smallest Star Wars openings in modern history. The release serves as a stress test for Disney's Star Wars theatrical strategy after a seven-year cinema absence.

7. The Club's top 10 things to watch in the stock market Friday

CNBC — 2026-05-22 13:20

Stocks are poised to extend yesterday's gains.

8. Wall Street thinks IMAX is ripe for a sale. Here's who could buy it

CNBC — 2026-05-22 16:26

IMAX shares rose 14% on reports the company is exploring a sale, with a market cap of roughly $2.1 billion. Analysts see IMAX as undervalued and suggest potential buyers include private equity, Netflix, Apple, and Sony. The company's asset-light licensing model and globally recognized brand make it an attractive strategic acquisition target.

Hot Now

- Technology — Strong 1-month momentum (+15.8%) and positive across all timeframes.
- Healthcare — Consistent positive returns with 1d +1.2%, 5d +3.3%, 1m +2.5%.
- Real Estate — Solid 5d (+3.1%) and 1m (+1.4%) gains, indicating recovery.

Cold but Worth Watching

- Communication Services — Negative across all timeframes, but potential for reversal given tech strength.
- Materials — Negative 1m (-2.9%) and flat 5d, but 1d positive; mean-reversion possible.
- Industrials — Negative 1m (-1.3%) but positive 1d and 5d; watch for stabilization.

Technology leads with strong momentum, while cyclical sectors like Communication Services and Materials lag but may see mean-reversion.

Daily Conclusion

Rising risk-free yields are driving capital rotation out of bonds and into equities, favoring growth-oriented sectors like Technology and Healthcare while pressuring rate-sensitive areas such as Real Estate and Industrials.
