Hot Now

- Technology — Technology shows strong momentum across 1d, 5d, and 1m, leading all sectors.
- Materials — Materials have positive returns across all timeframes, indicating steady strength.
- Energy — Energy has positive 1d and 5d returns, and its 1m decline is relatively mild, suggesting resilience.

Cold but Worth Watching

- Utilities — Utilities have the worst 1m performance but a strong 1d bounce, signaling potential mean-reversion.

- Consumer Staples — Consumer Staples are deeply negative over 5d and 1m, but their defensive nature may attract buyers on dips.
- Communication Services — Communication Services have consistent negative returns, but the sector may be oversold and due for a rebound.

Technology dominates with broad momentum, while defensive sectors like Utilities and Staples are oversold and could mean-revert.

Daily Conclusion

Escalating geopolitical tensions in the Middle East are driving a risk-off rotation out of equities and into commodities, with surging oil prices and a flight from defensive sectors like Utilities and Consumer Staples.
