⚠️ Major Anomalies

XLK — Technology ETF `+3.23%`

Cause: Technology ETF outperformed as AI-infrastructure names surged on Cisco's bullish AI revenue guidance and Cerebras' earnings beat plus Microsoft deal, concentrating gains in semiconductors and networking hardware.

Forward Impact: XLK should stay levered to AI capex headlines and Nvidia-related sentiment, making it more volatile than broad QQQ and sensitive to any signs of AI spending deceleration.

QQQ — Nasdaq 100 ETF `+2.31%`

Cause: Broad Nasdaq 100 rally was driven by strong AI-infrastructure earnings and deals (Cisco's AI revenue doubling guidance, Cerebras beating and announcing a Microsoft deal), which lifted mega-cap tech and the index despite a Microsoft outage headline.

Forward Impact: QQQ's near-term direction hinges on whether AI capex momentum sustains and on upcoming mega-cap tech earnings, with the Microsoft outage a minor drag unless it escalates into broader cloud-service disruption.

🔥 Sector Heat Map

Hot Now

- Industrials (XLI) — Only sector positive across all three timeframes (1d +1.3%, 5d +0.9%, 1m +1.4%), showing steady broad-based accumulation
- Communication Services (XLC) — Strongest 5d momentum at +3.5% with positive 1d follow-through, suggesting fresh leadership despite weak 1m
- Utilities (XLU) — Quietly positive on every timeframe (1d +0.2%, 5d +0.5%, 1m +4.7%), a defensive bid with consistent upside

Cold but Worth Watching

- Technology (XLK) — Worst 1m at -11.2% but sharpest 1d rebound at +3.2%, hinting at capitulation and mean-reversion potential

- Energy (XLE) — Weakest 1m at -5.7% yet top 1d gainer at +1.9%, an oversold bounce candidate if crude stabilizes
- Communication Services (XLC) — Negative 1m at -3.3% but best 5d at +3.5%, showing early reversal off the lows worth monitoring

> Leadership is rotating defensively into Industrials and Utilities while deeply oversold Tech and Energy stage tentative one-day rebounds, signaling a market searching for a bottom in beaten-down cyclicals.

💡 Daily Conclusion

> Tech-led selloff (QQQ/XLK) contrasts with strength in industrials and defensives as Gulf tanker explosions raise Strait of Hormuz supply-risk concerns.
